

Summer Fund Drive

Kamilla's family received rent and utility assistance to avoid eviction. Her mom just started a new job, but they were still struggling to catch up and make ends meet. Tonight one single mom can rest easy knowing her precious child has a safe place to call home.

On any given day, we receive dozens of calls from desperate parents searching for help for their children. Some families need rental assistance, while others seek support for critical medical, dental or autism services. Whether the season is spring, summer, fall, or winter, the demand for our services never stops.

For over 125 years, MCFS has been working to improve the lives of Texas families. Since inception, this organization has remained committed to providing assistance to underserved children in need.

Together, our work improves the quality of life for those we serve.

As we navigate through our busy lives, it is easy to get caught up in our own troubles, schedules, and relationships. It's important to remember that there are many families struggling to feed their families and keep stable housing. The struggle – is real and by not forgetting about those in need – we ourselves become better humans.

This summer, we will continue our mission to serve children who would simply go without if we did not step in to extend a helping hand.

— OF TEXAS —

Owen's family reached out to us for help with his autism. Can you only imagine what it might be like to be non-verbal? This is a common condition with autism spectrum disorder. The counseling and therapy that we supported for Owen and other children like him is invaluable for these kids.

Families are given the tools to understand and cope with communication challenges. Children, while maybe unable to speak, are able to express themselves and begin the process of learning to communicate with their family, teachers, and caregivers.

Throughout the year, we reach out to our donors for help because we must. We are there for the children and families that need us, and that's because of the kindness and generosity of you, our donor. We couldn't do it without you!

The Summer Fund Drive is important this year because our unstable economy continues to affect inflation rates and rising costs, including electricity and food. For families already struggling to pay bills and put food on the table, this adds additional financial burdens.

Today, we ask you to consider making a donation to help children that need our services. Please know that your contribution is deeply appreciated.

Sincerely,

Shannon Davis
Executive Director
